

Information pursuant to and for the purposes of Article 13 of Legislative Decree no. 196, 30th June 2003

In compliance with Legislative Decree no. 30th June 2003 . 196 (Privacy Code) and subsequent changes , we provide the necessary information regarding the processing of personal data you supplied. This notice is given pursuant to art. 13 of Legislative Decree no. 196/2003 – Italian Data Protection Code.

This information is not valid for other web sites which might be visited through links contained on all the web sites of data controller's domain name. The data controller shall not be considered responsible for third parties' web sites. When accessing the Site it is also possible to distinguish the data deriving from the user's navigation only, from those provided voluntarily by the user in relation to certain purposes.

1. DATA CONTROLLER, pursuant to Article 28 of the Italian Data Protection Code is Jacklon sas di Giacalone A. & C , in person of its legal representative.

2. CATEGORIES OF PROCESSED DATA

Personal data and identification data. Personal data shall mean any information relating to natural persons that are or can be identified, even indirectly, by reference to any other information, including a personal identification number. Identification data shall mean personal data allowing a data subject to be identified directly (for example, name, surname, pictures/ photographs, place and date of birth, address, email address, telephone number, etc.).

Data deriving from the user's navigation

During their normal operation, the computer systems and software procedures used to operate this website acquire some personal data whose transmission is implicit in the use of internet communication protocols. These pieces of information are not collected to be associated with identified interested parties, but by their very nature could allow to identify users through elaborations and associations with data held by third parties. These processing activities and data binding are never carried out by the data controller. This data category shall cover: IP addresses or domain names of computers used by users who connect to the Site, the URI-mapped addresses (URI stands for Uniform Resource Identifier) of the requested resources, the time of the request, the method used in submitting the request to the server, the size of the file obtained in reply, the numerical code indicating the status of the reply given by the server (successful, error, and so on) and other parameters relating to the operating system and to the computing environment of the user.

These data are exclusively used in anonymous form and for statistical purposes related to the use of the site and its correct functioning. The data could be used and stored in case of suspected cyber-crimes against the Site, for which the data controller reserves the right to place the matter before the competent authorities to ascertain any liability.

Data provided voluntarily by the user

The personal data provided by the users who voluntarily interact with the Site and give their personal information to obtain certain services (such as requests for information, e-mail messages and so on) are only used to perform the requested service or provision and are communicated to third parties just in case this is strictly necessary for the execution of the service (shipment of material, provision of assistance and so on).

Specific summaries of information are reported or displayed in the pages of the Site dedicated to on-demand services, so that they can draw the data subject's attention on the processing of his/her own personal data.

With the exception of what above specified concerning navigation data, the provision of personal data is optional and discretionary, although it might be necessary for some specific services, where the non-submittal of one's personal data could jeopardize or even make it impossible to get the required service.

Cookies

The software applications used may contain "cookie" technology. Cookies are primarily used to facilitate the navigation. Cookies may provide pieces of information regarding the navigation within the Site as well as enable the functioning of some services which require the identification of the user's path through different pages of the Site.

The Cookies of the software applications are anonymous and not linked to the user's personal data. Regardless of cookies, any portal access records the type of browser (e.g. Internet Explorer, Netscape), the operating system (e.g. Macintosh, Windows) the host and the visitor's URL (Uniform Resource Locator), in addition to the data on the requested page. The user can set the browser to notify him/her when a cookie is received and then he/she can decide to delete it.

More information on cookies can be found on the websites of the browser providers.

Different types of cookies

"Cookies are divided into "session cookies" and "persistent cookies". Session cookies are temporarily stored in the computer memory only during a user's browsing session and are automatically deleted from the user's computer when the browser is closed. On the contrary, persistent cookies are stored on the computer hard drive of the visiting user until they expire. Persistent cookies are used primarily to facilitate the navigation of the site, to understand which site sections have created a number of pages and users and to supply advertising formats. Session cookies make the interaction between users and web sites faster and easier. They do not collect any information from the user's computer and/or user's personal data, neither keep they track of the user's session habits. Session cookies are primarily used during authentication, authorization and surfing when it is necessary to register before browsing".

First-party cookies are only associated with the domain that has created them;

Third-party cookies are created by a Web site other than the one you are currently visiting, such as, for example, by Google Analytics.

The software used for site and platform creates a user cookie for statistical purposes related to the user's surfing habits. These data are then stored in Google Inc.

For more information about Google Analytics cookies please refer to Google's official documentation by visiting following url: <http://code.google.com/apis/analytics/docs/concepts/gaConceptsCookies.html>
